

Running a Pre-Teaching Vocabulary Intervention

A vocabulary intervention aims to support the teaching of key vocabulary in class and provide opportunities for children to explore new words in greater depth, revise vocabulary learnt in class and practice using new words when talking and writing.

It is very important that the activities in the pre-teaching intervention are linked to whole class learning:

- Educators need to work together to identify the key words to focus on
- The key words need to be displayed prominently in the classroom (words and pictures) – see below
- There need to be many opportunities in whole class lessons to hear, see, use and talk about the key words, both in speaking and writing activities.

This intervention follows the ‘STAR’ approach

S.Parsons & A.Brunagan, 2013

1. Introducing Key Words

Using the key vocabulary list selected, ensure that you have the key words and the pictures linked to them (use the same pictures in class and in the intervention).

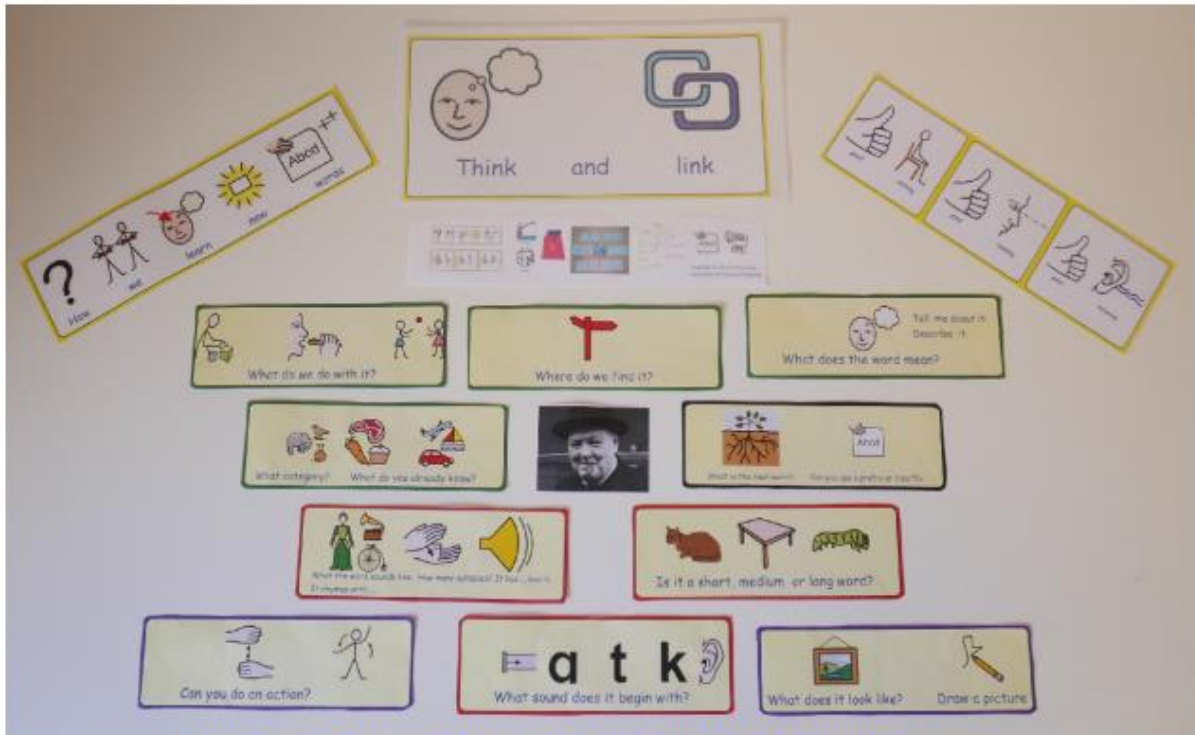

Say each word, match the picture to the word and ask children to point to the point on the poster which shows 'How well do I know the word?'

2. Pre-teaching 'Word Web' questions.

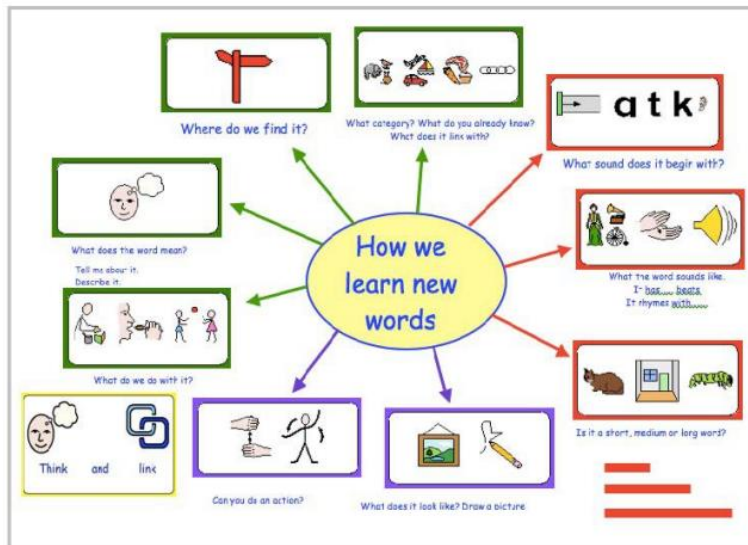

Select 2 – 3 key words per session. Place the word and picture in the middle of the word web and the questions cards (provided) around the outside. Work through each card as part of a group discussion (talking around the word). You don't need to use every card, every time, you can pick the questions which are most relevant!

The Step 1 prompts, here being used for the word "fowl".

The step 2 prompts shown in action with other visual supports.

A Word Wheel: all the prompts are included on a single sheet for easy desktop reference.

3. Challenge Cards

Choose one key word and place the challenge cards (provided) face down on the table. Each child takes turns turning over a challenge card and attempting the challenge.

Challenge card Say one thing about the word's meaning. 	Challenge card What is the first sound? b, c, t	Challenge card What does the word rhyme with?
Challenge card How many syllables does it have? 	Challenge card Use the word in a sentence. 	Challenge card Say one thing about the word's meaning.
Challenge card Act out the word. 	Challenge card How will you remember this word? 	Challenge card Which other word is a bit like this word?

4. Games

Here are a selection of games which promote vocabulary learning skills:

The Strongest Link

Making links between words and topics.

Find 10 to 12 pictures that link with a topic. Name the pictures and put them face down on the table. Take turns to pick up 2 pictures. Name the words and think of something that links the pictures. The child with the strongest link keeps the pictures!

Traditional game in which one person thinks of an object. Others try to guess what it is by asking questions. The original player can only answer 'yes, no or maybe.' A clue may be given if the guessers are on the wrong track. Can the item be guessed in 20 questions? Keep a tally of the number of questions on the board.
